

Scholarship Adjustments

Many factors can result in changes to a student's financial aid package. These changes can be due to variations in enrollment status and/or changes in residency status. Students who drop below full-time will have any federal and state awards recalculated and may lose eligibility for institutional scholarships. Students who switch from face-to-face courses to a completely online schedule may lose eligibility for institutional scholarships. Students who move off-campus may have their scholarship adjusted to a lower, commuter scholarship amount. Other factors not listed here can also result in an adjustment to a student's financial aid package. Questions about aid adjustments should be directed to the Financial Aid Office.